DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

- (b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 41,43, 51 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Martin-5,776,355.

Martin discloses a diamond tool having CVD diamond on the tool with a working surface and an opposite growth surface (col. 2, line 41), wherein the tool can be made with a mold (col. 3, line 50), wherein a non-diamond layer (col. 3, line 23) is formed against the diamond layer.

3. Claims 41, 42, 44,45,53 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Pryor -5,130,111.

Pryor discloses a CVD diamond tool (col. 6, last line) in which a mold having convex and concave surfaces are used to form a diamond surface and growth surface, and wherein the diamond is attached to non-diamond surfaces such as metal or plastic.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103(a)

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

- (a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 42,44-50, 52, 53 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Martin, alone.

In regard to the surface roughness, surface shape and diamond thickness, this would have been an obvious design choice to one of ordinary skill in the art at time invention was made dependent on workpiece and in order to achieve desired results. In regard to the use of the tool, (die, dresser, etc.) this would have been an obvious choice since diamond tools are well known for their use in these operations.

6. Claims 43, 46-52 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Pryor, alone.

In regard to the surface roughness, this would have been an obvious design choice to one of ordinary skill in the art at time invention was made dependent on workpiece and in order to achieve desired results. In regard to the use of the tool, (die, dresser, etc.) this would have been an obvious choice since diamond tools are well known for their use in these operations.

Allowable Subject Matter

7. Claims 21-39 appear allowable over the prior art of record.
